

Use these posts on your social media to show your support for Promote OKC

DYK: OKC visitors contribute $343 million in local taxes that help fund our public safety, streets, and more. Vote YES Aug. 27 to support growth in this vital industry without raising taxes on local residents. Learn more at promoteokc.com, and make plans to vote 8/27!

Our visitor industry supports 33k jobs, contributing $343 million in local taxes. Vote YES Aug. 27 to support MORE growth in this important economic sector by raising the hotel tax to a rate similar to our competitors, giving us the means to better compete without taxing local residents. Learn more at promoteokc.com!

OKC visitors spend $2.6 billion per year in our city, growing our economy/supporting small businesses, and generating $343 million in local taxes that help fund our public safety, streets, and more. We have an opportunity on Aug. 27 to say YES to increased visitor spending without raising taxes on local residents. Learn more at promoteokc.com.

Support small biz in OKC! OKC residents have the chance to help grow our visitor economy without raising taxes on local residents. Voting YES Tues. Aug. 27 to put the hotel/motel tax to a rate closer to that of our peers and competitors will help us promote OKC and grow spending by out-of-towners. This is important to our restaurants and retail shops, and to help fund vital city services like police, fire, street repairs and more. Learn more: promoteokc.com

More visitor spending in OKC = more out-of-towners supporting our economy and city services. We have a chance to grow this sector without raising taxes on local residents by voting YES Aug. 27 to raise the hotel tax to a rate more similar to that of our peer cities. Learn more at promoteokc.com and make plans to vote YES on Tues. 8/27!

Who likes things like more direct flights, job growth, better economic conditions for small businesses, and more funding for public safety/streets/parks/etc.? I do! I'm voting YES Tues. Aug. 27 to support the visitor industry in OKC without raising taxes on locals. OKC residents can find out more at promoteokc.com and join me at the polls 8/27 to vote YES.

Our competitor/peer cities in the visitor industry are out-promoting us in OKC because our hotel tax rates are way out-of-date. Vote YES on Tues. Aug. 27 to put OKC on par with the competition and help grow this vital economic sector without raising taxes on locals. More out-of-towners paying for our police/fire/street repairs/parks etc. and supporting our local businesses and retail shops sounds like a great deal to me. Find out more: promoteokc.com

Some facts: OKC visitors spend $2.6 billion here yearly, generating $343 million in local taxes, supporting 33k jobs. We can grow this VITAL economic driver without raising taxes on locals, helping small businesses and having out-of-towners contribute more to public safety/streets/parks etc. by voting YES on 8/27. Learn more about the hotel/motel tax election and join me at the polls to vote YES: promoteokc.com

Use these posts to show how voting YES helps your business:

Want to support small businesses like mine? OKC residents have the chance to help grow our visitor economy without raising taxes on local residents. Voting YES Tues. Aug. 27 to set the hotel/motel tax to a rate closer to that of our peers and competitors will help us promote OKC and grow spending by out-of-towners. This is important to our restaurants and retail shops, and to help fund vital city services like police, fire, street repairs and more. Learn more: promoteokc.com

More visitor spending is a win for small businesses like mine and for OKC residents. We have a chance to grow this sector without raising taxes on local residents by voting YES Aug. 27 to set the hotel tax to a rate more similar to that of our peer cities. Learn more at promoteokc.com and make plans to vote YES on Tues. 8/27!

Our competitor/peer cities in the visitor industry are out-promoting us in OKC because our hotel tax rates are way out-of-date, hurting businesses like mine. Vote YES on Tues. Aug. 27 to put OKC on par with the competition and help grow this vital economic sector. More out-of-towners supporting our local businesses and retail shops without raising taxes on locals sounds like a great deal to me. Find out more: promoteokc.com

The facts: OKC visitors spend $2.6 billion yearly, generating $343 million in local taxes, supporting 33k jobs. We can grow this sector without raising taxes on locals and help small businesses like mine by voting YES on 8/27. Learn more about the hotel/motel tax election and join me at the polls to vote YES: promoteokc.com

You can help support things like more direct flights, more revenue for vital city services like police/fire/street repairs, AND support businesses like mine without raising taxes on locals by voting YES Aug. 27. The proposal to set the hotel tax to a rate more similar to our competition is vital to help grow the $2.6 billion OKC visitor industry!
PromoteOKC.com